Forgetting Party Politics

THE generous support that is coming to Mr. Bury from men of all shades of political thought is a gratifying and most hopsful response to the idea that numicipal affairs and party politics should be kept resolutely apart. The good government, welfare and progress of the city are matters of concern to the people who have made their homes here, quite regardless of what national policy they approve or what party they prefer to have direct the destinies of the Dominion or the province.

Edmontor's location provides the oncertunity is huild onton's location provides the opportunity to build here the largest and most prosperous city in the prairie pro-vinces. The measure to which the people of the city set aside all other considerations and choose men of sterling character and known ability to manage the affairs of the city is the and known ability to manage the affairs of the city is the measure to which this opportunity can be realized.

The tide has turned in Canada and conditions are rapidly on the mend. High tide has not yet been reached. There are years of steady and rapid progress ahead of the Dominion. Nowhere should that progress be more marked than in the country of which Edmonton is the metropolis. To secure for the city its rightful share of this coming presperity will be in part the duty of the Mayor and council of 1927.

In Mr. Bury the citizens are offered the services of a man and council of the expectations are offered the services of a man and council of the expectations.

well qualified to serve them as head of the municipal adminis went quantizet to serve them as need of the numeripal adminis-tration. He has been for many years a resident of the city, is well known and highly respected. He served for years on the city council in a very acceptable manner. He is thoroughly conversant with civio affairs and deeply interested in the city's

Mr. Bury is a candidate in whom all who wish for clean, sane and progressive conduct of the city's business may repose confidence. The wide support that is being pledged to him by reputable citizens of widely differing political views shows the general esteem in which he is held, and recommends him to the favorable consideration of voters of all sections and classes.
